What are Large Learning Models? (LLMs)

Large Language Models are like super-smart computers that try to understand and talk like humans.

Super-Smart Computer Robots: Think of them as a computer program that's really good at using words, reading stories, and even writing like a person does.

Built Like a Brain: Inside, they are built using something called neural networks. This is a fancy way of saying they're designed like a human brain, using connections called "artificial neurons."

Learning from Everything: They learn by consuming tons of stuff like books, websites, and even what people are saying online. The more they read, the smarter they get.

Image LLMs are fed billions of images. Video LLM are fed billions of videos

Practice Makes Perfect: Just like you might practice a sport to get better, these computer programs keep learning and practicing with more and more information. They keep getting better at understanding and using content the more they practice.

What is Generative AI?

Generative AI refers to a type of artificial intelligence that has the ability to generate new data that is similar to the data it was trained on.

It can create original content, such as images, text, audio, or even videos, without direct human input.

Generative AI uses advanced algorithms, typically based on deep learning models to understand patterns and relationships in the training data.

During the training process, the model learns to generate new data that resembles the examples it has seen. For example, if it was trained on a dataset of cat images, it could produce new images of cats that look similar to real cats.

One of the fascinating aspects of generative AI is its ability to create content that didn't exist before. It can be used in various creative applications, like generating artwork, music, or even writing stories.

Many of the tools in this course are both an LLM and generative AI

Chat GPT, Dalle, Midjourney and other tools we will cover falls under the category of both a large learning model and generative AI, combining its extensive language, image or videos understanding with the ability to generate content

How can AI voices impact your digital marketing?

I think AI Voice creation will lag behind image and video generation but you will start hearing more about it.

1. If you want a professional voiceover for a video

Currently you would either record your own voice and add it as a voiceover in a video or your would commission a voice over artist.

With either of these you would need to re record it in a foreign language if you wanted to

With AI voices you can simply choose a voice that you like, type what you want and it will say it. You can add it to your video

And if you want that voice saying it in a different language it will translate it and say it in any language you want. .
