Step 6: How to weigh up whether TikTok is a suitable marketing tool for you

An overview of the main areas in the app - Home

Every time you login to TikTok you are taken to Home

Home is your feed.

Your feed has 2 big options.

1. The For You Page (feed)

This is the default and mainly contains videos from accounts you are not following but TikTok thinks you will find interesting

2. Following Feed

This contains videos from accounts you are following

Most people look at the For You Feed

An overview of the main areas in the app - Home

When you are looking at a video you can ...

- Tap the circle to go to the profile of the account that created the video or tap the + to immediately follow them.
- See how many likes the video has received
- Favourite the video in order to "view it again in your favourites"
- Read the comments that people have made on the video
- Tap the arrow to share the video with someone else either on TikTok or via WhatsApp. You can also save the video or add it to favourites
- Tap the revolving circle to view the sound / music that was used in the video

An overview of the main areas in the app - Home

When you are looking at a video you can ...

- See who has posted the video by reading their @username. If you tap on the username it takes you to their profile.
- Read the caption/text that goes out with the video
- Read the name of the music track or sound that is being used in the video

An overview of the main areas in the app — Friends and +

The friends tab is a feed that shows you videos from accounts you are following and your friends (contacts from your phone or Facebook friends) If you connect TikTok to your phone's contact list or FB, this feed will contain their TikTok posts.

The + symbol is to create a TikTok Video

When you tap on this you can create videos using clips from your phone, videos that you shoot right now and you can add music / sounds from their library

An overview of the main areas in the app — Inbox and profile

Inbox – This area shows you who has followed you, engaged with your videos

It also shows you people you might know on TikTok

Profile:

This is you on TikTok When people search and find you this is what they see.

Therefore you should edit your profile to brand it with a photo and a description

An overview of the main areas in the app — Your Profile

The main areas of your profile are

- The name of your account. You can also tap on this to switch to another account or to create a new account
- The eye symbol allows you to see who has viewed your account
- The menu that allows you to get to Settings and creator tools
- Your profile picture
- Your @username
- Your stats
- The button to edit your profile
- The button to view videos that you have favourited
- Your grid which shows the videos that you have sent out

How does a typical person use TikTok?

How people typically use TikTok.

- 1. They spend most of the time on Home watching videos in their "For you feed", swiping up to navigate through them.
- 2. The videos are mainly funny, entertaining or informative.
- 3. Users would also tap on the search icon to search for and find accounts or videos to do with a topic.
- 4. Users would also switch to the "following" feed but mainly use the For You feed.

How does a typical person use TikTok?

TikTok Passed Instagram in Total Daily Minutes in 2022 and Will Pass Facebook in 2025

And when people use TikTok they tend to use it more and more.

Usage of Facebook is trending down and Instagram is not growing as much

How does Tik Tok compare to Facebook, Instagram, Twitter as a person?

On Facebook, Twitter & Instagram

- People connect with friends or they follow business pages / profiles
- They then go to their Feed and they see posts from those / people or accounts
- The Algorithm decides which of these posts the person will find interesting

Almost everything in the feed is from people or accounts they are following (except for shares)

On TikTok

- TikTok shows people popular videos in the feed
- People can search, find and follow accounts. However, following is far less important than on the other networks.
- There are 2 feeds A "For You" feed and a "following" feed. People spend most of the time on the For you feed.
- Based on the topics that people search for and the videos they watch, the TikTok Algorithm will show the VERY popular and interesting videos in the for you feed

Most of what people see on TikTok is not from from people they are following. It is what the algorithm thinks they will find interesting

Step 5: How to get more views for your videos

· Tactics for getting into the For You Page and getting discovered.

Step 6: How to weigh up whether TikTok is a suitable marketing tool for you

How to signup for a TikTok Account

Download the TikTok app from the Play store or App store

Choose to create an account using Your Gmail Facebook login, Apple ID or use your email or phone number.

Fill in your date of birth and proceed.

They will ask you to fill in a password

You now have a TikTok account

How to edit and brand your profile correctly

- 1. Tap on the profile icon to go to your profile
- 2. Tap on edit profile
- Add your logo as a photo
- 4. Add the name of your business (you have 30 characters)
- 5. You can change your username. This is what you are known as on TikTok so make it as close to your business name as possible. (you have 30 characters)
- 6. Describe your business in your bio.(You have 160 characters)
- 7. You can add a link to your Instagram or YouTube accounts

How to get to your settings

- 1. Tap on the profile icon to go to your profile
- 2. Tap on the menu icon in the top right
- 3. Tap on settings and privacy
- 4. Tap on Manage account to change your email / pw or to switch to a business account
- 5. Tap privacy to make your account private
- 6. Tap security to setup 2 step verification
- Tap share profile if you want to send your profile details to someone else

The difference between personal and business accounts and should you switch?

There are 2 types of accounts on TikTok

- 1. Personal Account these are for people
- 2. Business accounts these are for businesses

When you join TikTok you get a personal account but you can then switch over to a business one

The advantages of switching:

- You get more analytics and can download your analytics using the website version of TikTok
- You can add your email address to your profile
- You can add a clickable link to your website but only if you have more than 1k followers

The disadvantages of switching

 You no longer have access to all the copyright music – you only get to use Stock music

If you switch you can always change your mind and switch back

How to switch to a business account

How to switch to a business account

- They explain the benefits of switching. Tap next
- Choose a category for your business and then tap next

Can you add a website link in your profile?

You will see lots of accounts on TikTok that have a clickable web address in their profile. However, it is no longer straight forward to get this and if you recently joined, when you go to edit your profile the option won't be there.

In the past ...

 It was easy to add a link. So you will see lots of Personal accounts using copyright music with a link in their profile

Then ...

 They changed it so that only accounts (previous called Pro accounts) could have a link - not personal accounts.

Now ...

 In order to have a link in your profile you need to have a `Business account PLUS you need to have over 1,000 followers

Can you add a website link in your profile?

Workarounds ...

- 1. You could type your website address into your bio but it won't be clickable
- 2. You can link to your Instagram account this will be clickable and on your Instagram profile people will see a link to your Website

How to turn on "Analytics" and why you should do this straight away

TikTok provides analytics for your videos and you will be able to see

- How many people watch the video
- What geographic region they are in
- On average how many seconds of the video is being watched

This will give you a good idea as to whether people are watching your videos or just swiping up quickly.

However, you need to activate Analytics in order to get this data and you should activate it just after You send out your first video

- Go to your profile
- 2. Tap the menu top right
- 3. Tap on Creator Tools
- 4. Tap on analytics and then activate analytics

When looking at the TikTok algorithm there are two areas to consider:

- 1. What contributes to your authority
- The review process and making it to the For You Page

What contributes to your authority ranking

- For New accounts. Understand that every post you make contributes to your authority
- The first five videos you post are crucial. TikTok wants you to create types of videos that stay in the same vertical.
 So, if you are making Yoga tips videos in your first five,
 TikTok will basically say, "this is a Yoga Tips account." So, the first five are critical: you need to have a plan and focus on a niche
- Verticality. TikTok doesn't want you being experimental. Pick a content vertical and stay with it. Content that varies or doesn't have a specific theme won't weigh well. If you start to make videos that fall into a different category, it's like starting over because you don't have authority on that vertical yet.
- Views. If your videos typically get 100 or fewer views, you're going to have a zombie account, so lots of people recommend delete and start again. Videos that get between 1000–3000 views mean you have a mid-tier account. Videos that get 10,000+ views mean you have a top tier account.

- Viewing completion. This is one of the most important factors. Your video needs to be viewed from start to finish to count for this metric. The key things that help with this are:
- Short videos. Videos can now be up to 10 minutes long, but TikTok recommends to their advertisers that they be 9–15 seconds
- Looping videos. If the video is watched repeatedly, then its Completion Ratio will be over 100% and will increase the overall performance rating of the video.

The review process and making it to FYP

So, now that we understand authority, it's best to have a plan for the type of account / topic you will focus on and then create five high quality videos

Then you are ready to start posting and here's what will happen next.

- Authority-based automatic distribution. Your video goes out to a geo-local network (e.g. Mainly Ireland for us) of about 300–500 viewers.
- Integrity-based AI review and data collection. Shortly after this initial distribution to a few hundred people, it's being checked frame-by-frame by an AI for inappropriate content, copyright issues, etc. It's then given a new weighting (integrity rating)

The review process and making it to FYP

Delayed explosion. (Without warning an old video could start to do really well and gets tens or hundreds of e.g. thousands of views).

This is one of the biggest differences between TikTok and other platforms and where you have a second chance of getting onto the FYP.

Delayed explosion is why you should carefully consider whether you should delete old videos, regardless of whether it did badly.

Periodically (this could be weeks or months later), TikTok could test your older content and restart a process like..

- a) It resends your videos to a small group of people, then a slightly larger group
- b) and if it performs well then the AI is relooking at your authority and integrity ranking
- c) The AI could then decide that this could be a very popular video so send it for human review.

The review process and making it to FYP

Human review.

A human reviewer will see the video with these scores and decide if it has the potential to be a viral video. They'll also double-check for copyright and "bad" content that may have slipped past the AI in step two.

To be promoted to the FYP, the content must fit TikTok's idea of what is nice and popular in the geo-local region.

Common things that have been noticed are

- Pretty people in videos tend to do well
- No strong political videos

How to search on TikTok

In order to find content and users tap on the search icon top right

Type in the topic you are interested in e.g. "Handbags"

Then you can select

Users = Accounts relevant to handbags Videos = relevant handbag videos Sounds = Songs to do with handbags

Live = Relevant live videos

Hashtags = Hashtags to do with Handbags

How to get found on TikTok

In order to get found ...

- 1. To get your account found in search choose 2-3 key search words and ensure they are in your name or username
- 2. To get your videos found ensure you are using relevant hashtags in the captions of your videos

How does Tik Tok compare to Facebook, Instagram, Twitter as a marketing tool?

On Facebook, Twitter & Instagram

- Businesses create a page / profile and post interesting content – mixture of images and videos
- They then grow their followers so that followers will see their posts in the feed
- Where possible, they try to drive followers to their website
- Once they send out a post the lifespan of the post is quite short – after a day or so it is has reached most people.

Almost everything that they post will be seen by followers, unless they can get posts found in search and by hashtags.

On TikTok

- Businesses create videos
- Their videos will then be put into the For You page of non followers and some followers. It will also go into the "following" feed of followers
- If the Algorithm thinks that people find the video interesting it will get into the For You feed of thousands more non followers.
- The video could be presented to non followers months after it was originally posted.

Most of the people who see your videos could be non followers who TikTok think would have an interest in the topic

Step 5: How to get more views for your videos

· Tactics for getting into the For You Page and getting discovered.

Step 6: How to weigh up whether TikTok is a suitable marketing tool for you

Tactics for getting more views and getting discovered.

Studies and have shown the following tactics can result in more people engaging with your video, so the algorithm shows it to more people in the FY feed.

Use trending sounds – Tap on search on the home screen and then search for "viral sounds". Then tap on the sounds search results.

Tactics for getting more views and getting discovered.

- 2. Ensure the first 3 seconds gets people's attention. Either very visually interesting or add text that piques curiosity e.g. "This is the best tip I ever received"
- 3. Ensure your thumbnails have text that is easy to read. When people browse your profile it will increase viewings of older videos
- 4. Find accounts posting about similar topics to yours. Observe what type of videos have worked best for them.
- 5. Engage with them. Leave comments. People will click through to your profile
- 6. Add a short caption that is immediately readable and will resonate and then add relevant hashtags

Tactics for getting more views and getting discovered.

- 7. Try and close your video with "For more like this visit my profile" or "Follow for more"
- 8. Engage with comments and this will encourage more comments
- 9. Post regularly ideally once a day when starting out to build authority with the algorithm. But ensure they are high quality videos not posting for the sake of posting

The more often you post high quality videos on TikTok the more the algorithm tends to reward you.

Ask yourself - are you comfortable making videos?

Are you comfortable making videos or do you find it difficult?

If you enjoy making videos and you think it's a good fit for your business, TikTok is definitely worth trying

Ask yourself — Will you be able to make to make LOTS of videos?

When you use Instagram or Facebook for Marketing you will probably post a lot of images and also some videos

On TikTok it is ALL videos

And to do well you would need to post videos 3-5 times a week at the start in order to grow your Account

Will you be able to make that amount of videos a week?

If you decide that TikTok is a good fit

Tactics to grow your followers
