How does a typical person use TikTok?

How people typically use TikTok.

1. They spend most of the time on Home watching videos in their "For you feed", swiping up to navigate through them.
2. The videos are mainly funny, entertaining or informative.
3. Users would also tap on the search icon to search for and find accounts or videos to do with a topic.
4. Users would also switch to the "following" feed but mainly use the For You feed.

How does Tik Tok compare to Facebook, Instagram, Twitter as a person?

On Facebook & Instagram

- People connect with friends or they follow business pages / profiles
- They then go to their Feed and they see posts from those / people or accounts
- The Algorithm decides which of these posts the person will find interesting

Almost everything in the feed is from people or accounts they are following (except for shares)

On TikTok

- TikTok shows people popular videos in the feed
- People can search, find and follow accounts. However, following is far less important than on the other networks.
- There are 2 feeds – A “For You” feed and a “following” feed. People spend most of the time on the For you feed.
- Based on the topics that people search for and the videos they watch, the TikTok Algorithm will show the VERY popular and interesting videos in the for you feed

Most of what people see on TikTok is not from from people they are following. It is what the algorithm thinks they will find interesting

How the Algorithm works in the For You Page

When looking at the TikTok algorithm there are two areas to consider:

1. What contributes to your authority
2. The review process and making it to the For You Page

Source: Techcrunch.com

How the Algorithm works in the For You Page

What contributes to your authority ranking

- For New accounts. Understand that every post you make contributes to your authority
- The first five videos you post are crucial. TikTok wants you to create types of videos that stay in the same vertical. So, if you are making Yoga tips videos in your first five, TikTok will basically say, “this is a Yoga Tips account.” So, the first five are critical: you need to have a plan and focus on a niche
- Verticality. TikTok doesn’t want you being experimental. Pick a content vertical and stay with it. Content that varies or doesn’t have a specific theme won’t weigh well. If you start to make videos that fall into a different category, it’s like starting over because you don’t have authority on that vertical yet.
- Views. If your videos typically get 100 or fewer views, you’re going to have a zombie account, so lots of people recommend delete and start again. Videos that get between 1000–3000 views mean you have a mid-tier account. Videos that get 10,000+ views mean you have a top tier account.

What contributes to your authority ranking continued..

- Viewing completion. This is one of the most important factors. Your video needs to be viewed from start to finish to count for this metric. The key things that help with this are:
- Short videos. Videos can now be up to 10 minutes long, but TikTok recommends to their advertisers that they be 9–15 seconds
- Looping videos. If the video is watched repeatedly, then its Completion Ratio will be over 100% and will increase the overall performance rating of the video.

How the Algorithm works in the For You Page

The review process and making it to FYP

So, now that we understand authority, it's best to have a plan for the type of account / topic you will focus on and then create five high quality videos

Then you are ready to start posting and here's what will happen next.

- Authority-based automatic distribution. Your video goes out to a geo-local network (e.g. Mainly Ireland for us) of about 300–500 viewers.
- Integrity-based AI review and data collection. Shortly after this initial distribution to a few hundred people, it's being checked frame-by-frame by an AI for inappropriate content, copyright issues, etc. It's then given a new weighting (integrity rating)

How the Algorithm works in the For You Page

The review process and making it to FYP

Delayed explosion. (Without warning an old video could start to do really well and gets tens or hundreds of e.g. thousands of views).

This is one of the biggest differences between TikTok and other platforms and where you have a second chance of getting onto the FYP.

Delayed explosion is why you should carefully consider whether you should delete old videos, regardless of whether it did badly.

Periodically (this could be weeks or months later), TikTok could test your older content and restart a process like..

- a) It resends your videos to a small group of people, then a slightly larger group
- b) and if it performs well then the AI is relooking at your authority and integrity ranking
- c) The AI could then decide that this could be a very popular video so send it for human review.

How the Algorithm works in the For You Page

The review process and making it to FYP

Human review.

A human reviewer will see the video with these scores and decide if it has the potential to be a viral video. They'll also double-check for copyright and "bad" content that may have slipped past the AI in step two.

To be promoted to the FYP, the content must fit TikTok's idea of what is nice and popular in the geo-local region.

Common things that have been noticed are

- Pretty people in videos tend to do well
- No strong political videos

How to search on TikTok

In order to find content and users tap on the search icon top right

Type in the topic you are interested in e.g. "Handbags"

Then you can select

- Users = Accounts relevant to handbags
- Videos = relevant handbag videos
- Sounds = Songs to do with handbags
- Live = Relevant live videos
- Hashtags = Hashtags to do with Handbags

How to get found on TikTok

In order to get found ...

1. To get your account found in search choose 2-3 key search words and ensure they are in your name or username
2. To get your videos found ensure you are using relevant hashtags in the captions of your videos

How does Tik Tok compare to Facebook, Instagram, Twitter as a marketing tool?

On Facebook, Twitter & Instagram

- Businesses create a page / profile and post interesting content – mixture of images and videos
- They then grow their followers so that followers will see their posts in the feed
- Where possible, they try to drive followers to their website
- Once they send out a post the lifespan of the post is quite short – after a day or so it is has reached most people.

Almost everything that they post will be seen by followers, unless they can get posts found in search and by hashtags.

On TikTok

- Businesses create videos
- Their videos will then be put into the For You page of non followers and some followers. It will also go into the “following” feed of followers
- If the Algorithm thinks that people find the video interesting it will get into the For You feed of thousands more non followers.
- The video could be presented to non followers months after it was originally posted.

Most of the people who see your videos could be non followers who TikTok think would have an interest in the topic
