Then ask it to analyse and describe the writing style

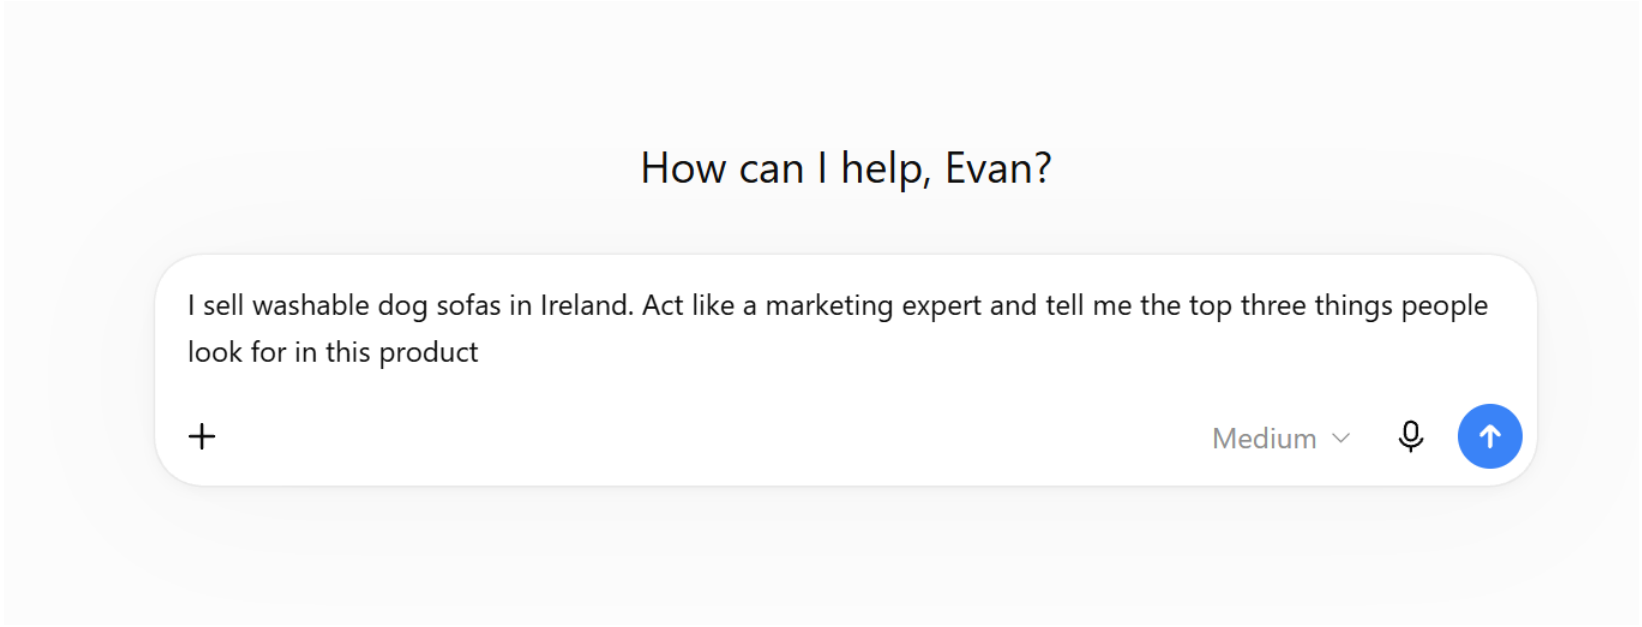

How to get Chat GPT to write like you

After it describes it, tell it this is your style and says “Remember that”

This is Evan's writing style. remember that. in the future if I ask you to write like Evan refer back to this style

Act like a web copywriter and write 5 headlines for me to choose from that factor those three things

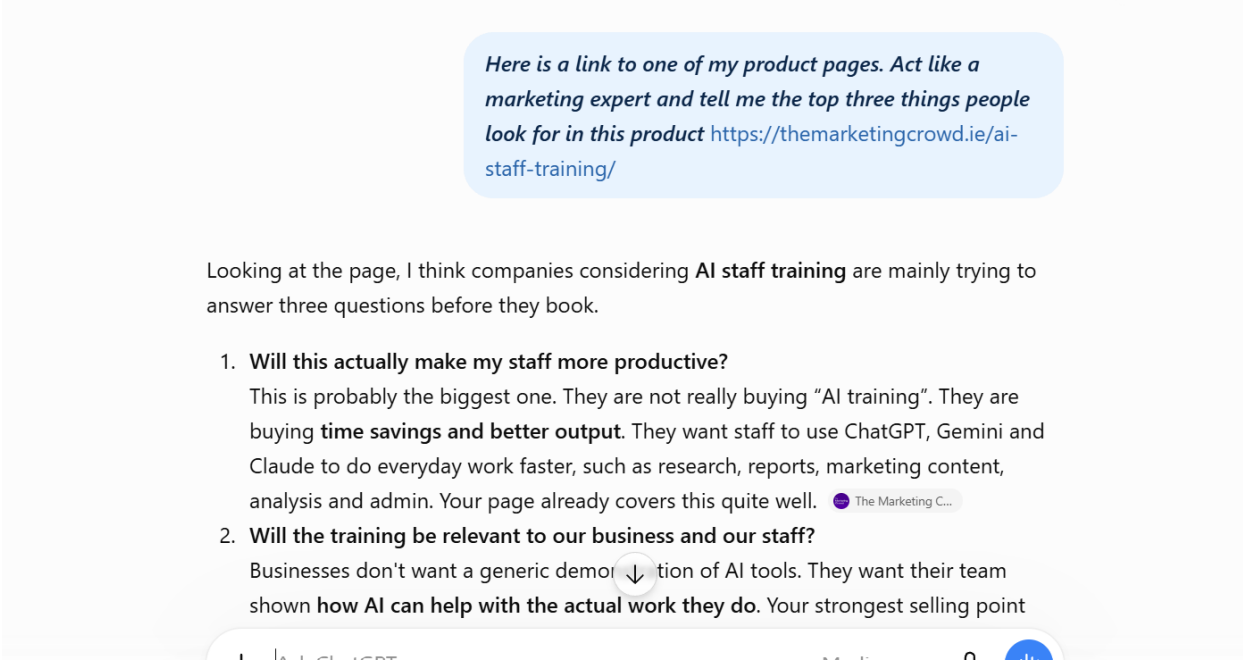

How to write better web page headlines and body text

Option 2: Paste in a link to one of your web pages

Here is a link to one of my product pages. Act like a marketing expert and tell me the top three things people look for in this product

Then repeat the process. Ask it to write 5 headline options and then the body text

Can you get penalised if you use AI written content?

Google says that it does not penalise AI written content.
However it does penalise what it calls low quality spammy pages that have very average common content

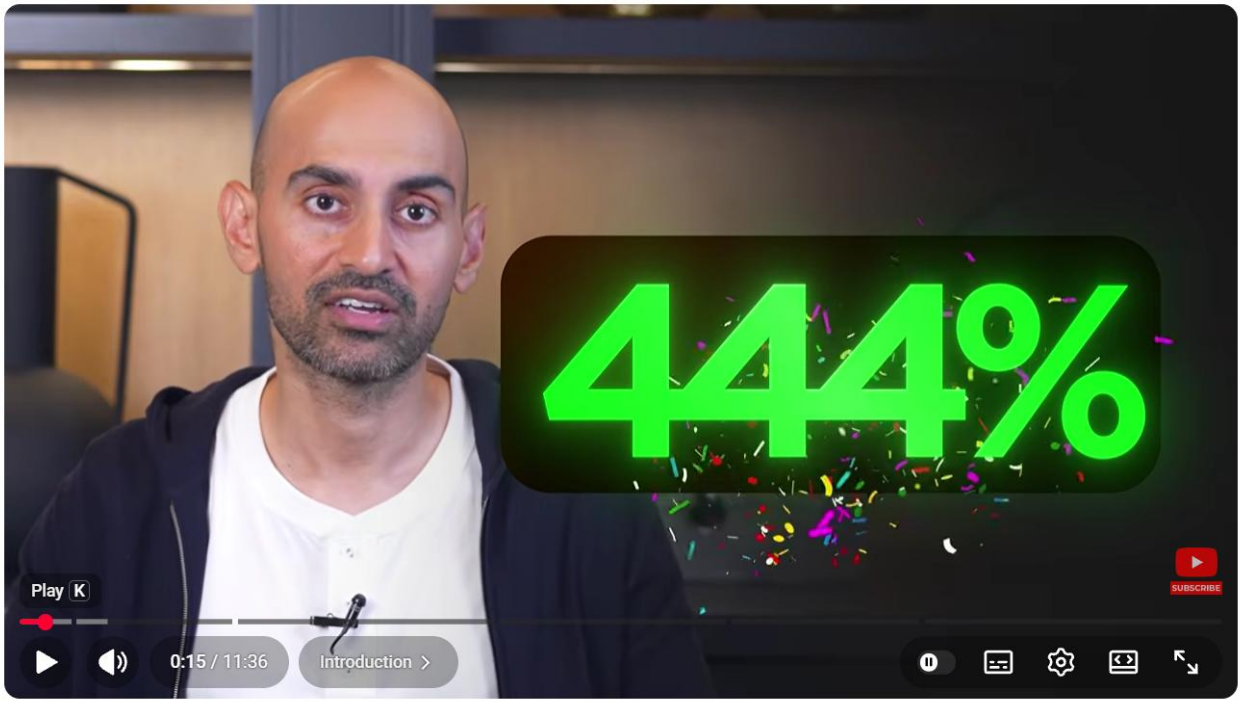

Also, the algorithm favours content that it sees is different / unique / insightful

Can you get penalised if you use AI written content?

It’s fine to use AI to understand what you should have in your headline and body text
But then use this as a draft and improve it
Add your own examples and insights and stats
Ensure it is factually correct and has your input

Can you get penalised if you use AI written content?

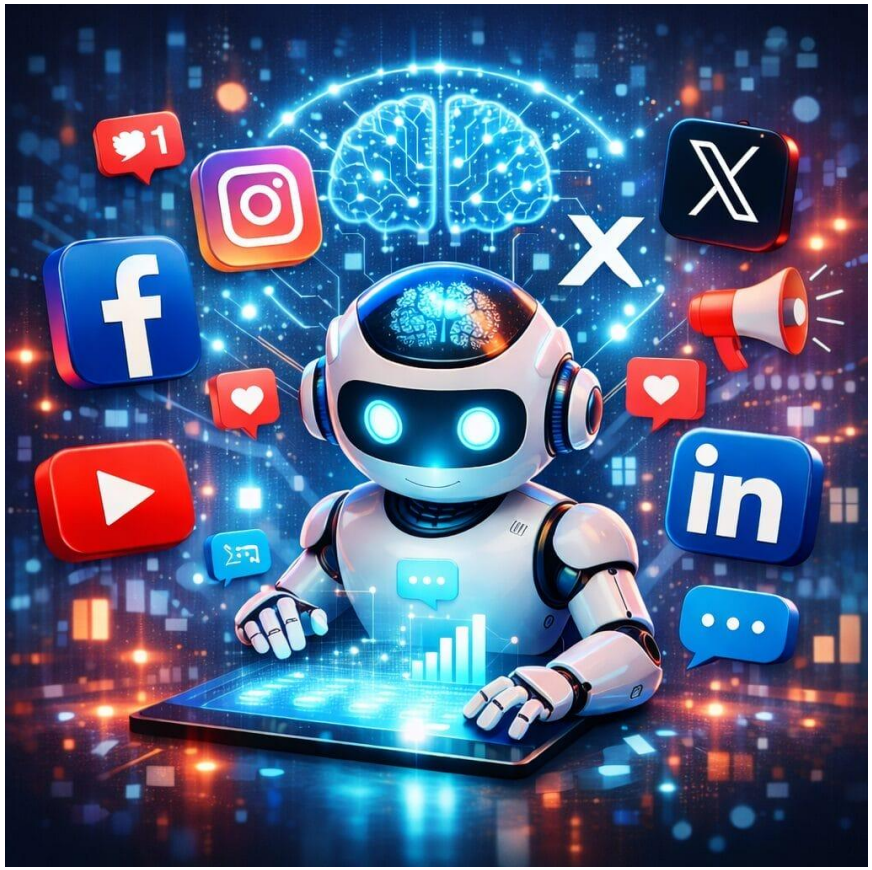

Google Watermarks Your AI Content. Here's the 20-Minute Fix

https://youtu.be/y3vnFozXouE?si=-ZJZelgEHbeDArUM

Watch this video which explains a study that found

- Ai content doesn't do well in Google – because it tends to use common insights / examples etc
- Content with a high degree of human involvement does – because Google algorithm sees it as unique, insightful, credible

Can you get penalised if you use AI written content?

Social media Algorithms do not penalise you if your text is written by AI.

However, you really shouldn't

If people feel that you are using AI then it undermines your social media

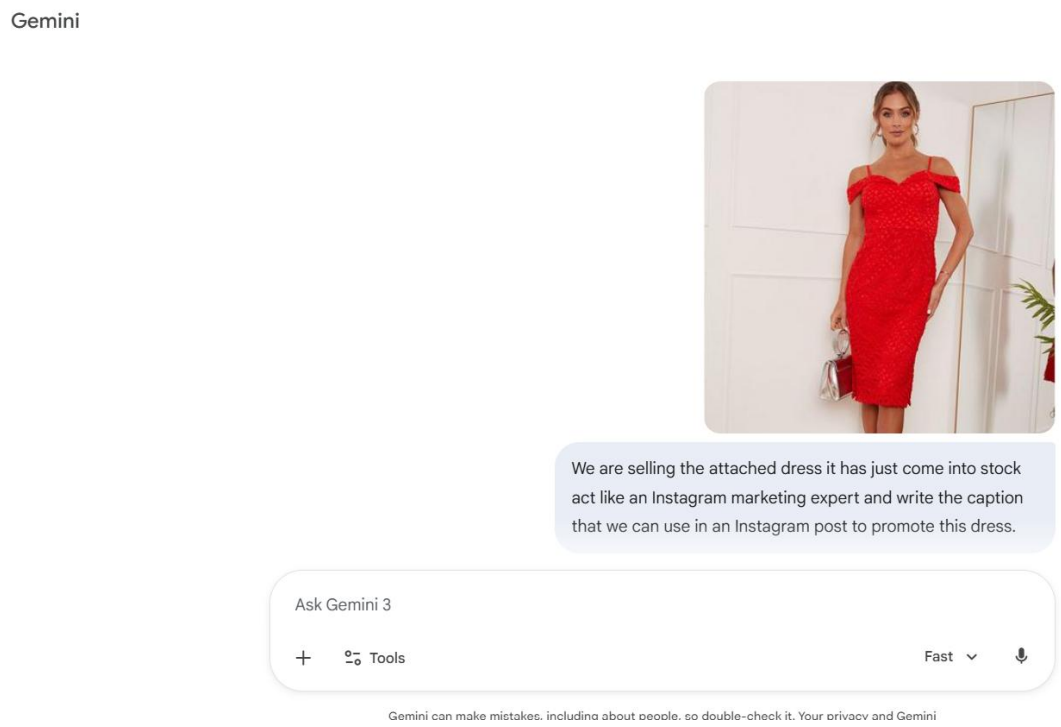

It isn't authentic anymore. You are going through the motions

Why would someone engage with a post if they feel that you couldn't be bothered writing it yourself

Some networks like LinkedIn have introduced a "this is AI slop" button and people are pressing it https://www.theverge.com/ai-artificial-intelligence/983502/linkedin-ai-slop-button-one-million-people-message

How to attach a product image to get draft webpage or social media text

Click the + icon next to the prompt

Select Image

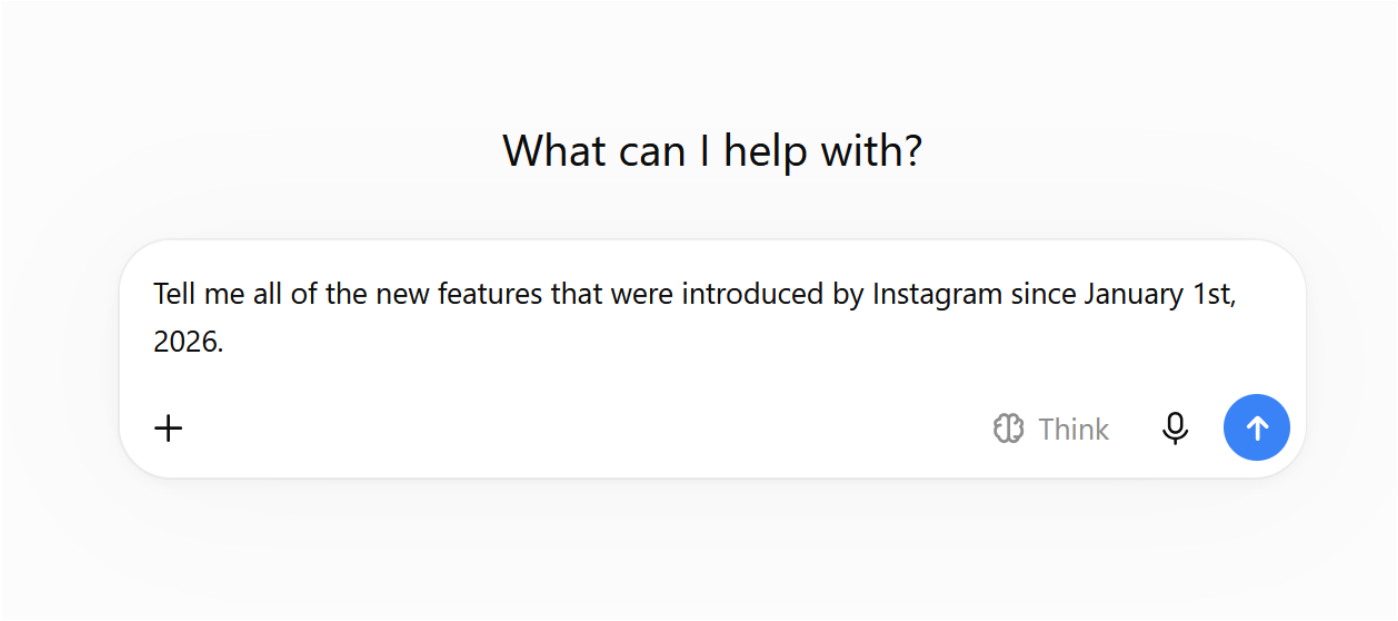

Attach your image

Write your prompt e.g.

“Act like a web copywriter and write the text for this product. Factor in the three things people look for thin this type of product”

Note: This works in Chat GPT, Gemini and Claude

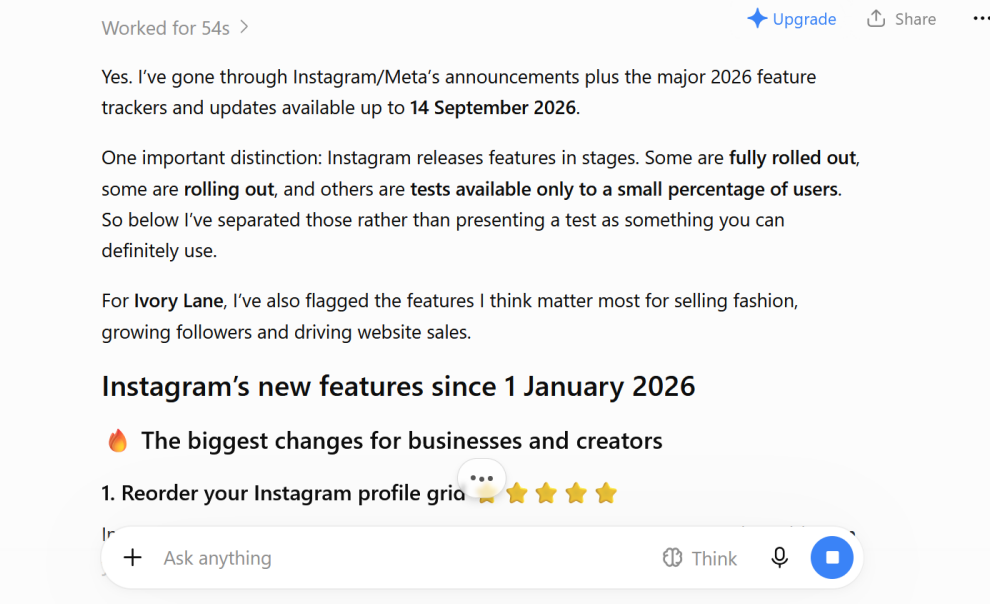

How to fact check AI written content

AIs can hallucinate which means they make things up. If you need the content to be 100% factually accurate …..

Ask Chat GPT / Gemini or Claude for the information that you want

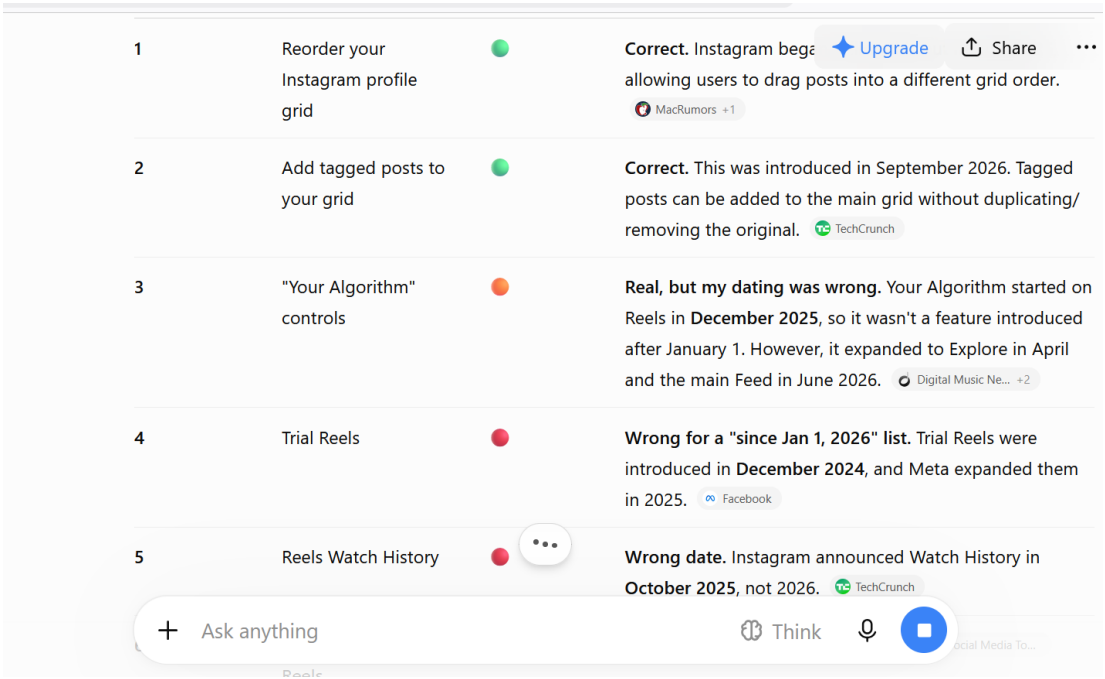

How to fact check AI written content

After it provided the response follow up with this prompt:

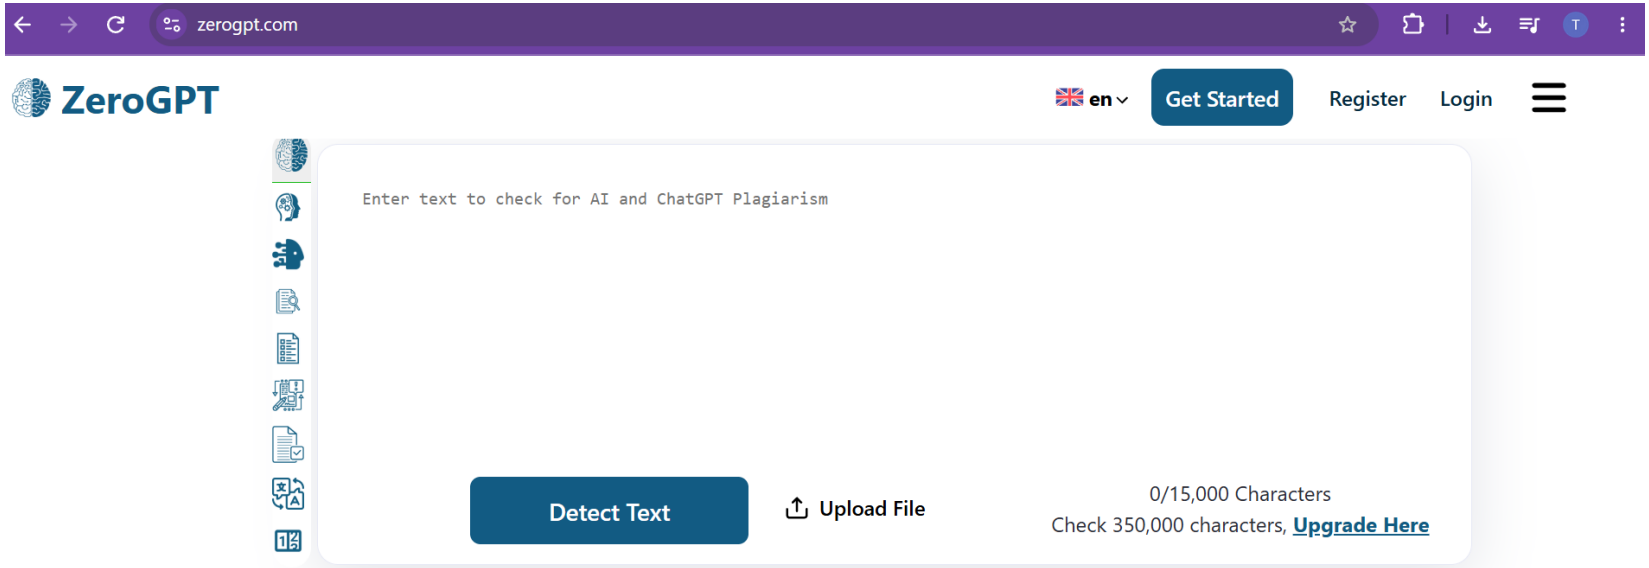

Can you now fact check all of this, please? Could you apply a traffic light system where green is yes, you found that this information was verified elsewhere on the internet, orange, you're not quite sure, red, you could not verify or substantiate this information anywhere. Could you assign that colour code to all the info that you have provided?

How to fact check AI written content

It will then double check everything and assign a colour to each point

How to check if content is mainly AI written

Use the free tool at https://www.zerogpt.com/

Paste in your text and then click submit text

It is not 100% accurate but I have always found it to be reliable at detecting e.g. When I paste my content in it says likely 93% Human written . When I paste AI content it says likes 85% AI written this man is in a cinematic scene set in ancient Rome inside the Colosseum. He is a young gladiator, standing proudly in the arena after victory. He wears authentic Roman gladiator armour — bronze chestplate, leather straps, greaves, short red cape and a short sword (gladius) in hand. His expression is noble sun rays cutting through the dust-filled air. The roaring crowd fills the stone tiers behind him, waving red banners as sand and debris swirl in the golden light. The atmosphere feels epic, emotional, and cinematic — inspired by Gladiator (2000) film cinematography. Hyper-realistic detail, 8K resolution, strong backlighting, shallow depth of field, and dynamic composition that captures movement and triumph.
